

Washington, DC - Focusing on the health care priorities of Georgia's 12th Congressional District, Congressman John Barrow (D-Savannah) will next week hold the first meeting of his newly formed health care advisory council. The panel will work with Congressman Barrow throughout the 110th Congress to pinpoint and address the specific needs of the district's healthcare service delivery and infrastructure. The panel consists of practicing physicians, hospital administrators, and health policy advisors from all across the 12th District.

Barrow and members of the council will have their first meeting on Monday, February 19. Following the meeting, a press conference will be held 3:00 PM in 1st floor lobby of the St. Joseph's/Candler's Nancy N. and J.C. Lewis Cancer & Research Pavilion.

After the press conference, Barrow and members of the health care council will tour St. Joseph's/Candler's St. Mary's Community Center -- the first stop on Barrow's Hospital Health Care Tour.

WHAT:

Congressman John Barrow and member of the 12th District health care advisory council will hold a press conference to discuss their first meeting.

WHEN:

Monday, February 19 at 3:00 PM.

WHERE:

St. Joseph's/Candler's Nancy N. and J.C. Lewis Cancer & Research Pavilion, 1st Floor Lobby, 225 Candler Drive, Savannah.

**Across Reynolds Street from the Candler Hospital campus in Midtown Savannah, between Derenne Avenue and 63rd Street.*

click here for a .pdf copy of this advisory